

Blessed Are They Which Are Persecuted for Righteousness' Sake

The Eight Beatitudes · The Beatitudes

The final beatitude pronounces blessing on those who suffer for doing right—not for wrongdoing or foolishness, but specifically for righteousness. The world hates righteousness because it exposes evil, and those who live righteously provoke opposition. Yet such persecution confirms kingdom citizenship and places sufferers in the noble company of the prophets. The promise returns to the first beatitude: theirs is the kingdom of heaven—forming an inclusio that encompasses all kingdom blessings.

Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. But and if ye suffer for righteousness' sake, happy are ye: and be not afraid of their terror, neither be troubled.
