

1 Chronicles 13:14

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And the ark of God remained with the family of Obed-edom in his house three months. And the LORD blessed the house of Obed-edom, and all that he had.

Analysis

And the ark of God remained with the family of Obed-edom in his house three months. And the LORD blessed the house of Obed-edom, and all that he had—After Uzzah's death frightened David, the ark diverted to Obed-edom's home. The Hebrew barak ('blessed') indicates comprehensive prosperity. This Gittite Levite (15:18) properly honored the ark, receiving blessing David had sought improperly.

The principle is profound: God's presence brings blessing when approached rightly. Obed-edom's obedience contrasted with the expedition's earlier presumption. His blessing became the catalyst for David's renewed attempt (15:25), this time following proper procedures. Sometimes God uses others' blessing to rebuke our disobedience and teach right worship.

Historical Context

Obed-edom was a Gittite (from Gath-rimmon), a Levitical city. His three-month guardianship of the ark (c. 1002 BC) bridged David's failed and successful attempts. The visible blessing on his household testified that proper treatment of sacred things brings divine favor, not judgment.
