

1 Corinthians 15:29

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Else what shall they do which are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? why are they then baptized for the dead?

Analysis

Else what shall they do which are baptized for the dead? (Ἐπεὶ τί ποιήσουσιν οἱ βαπτιζόμενοι ὑπὲρ τῶν νεκρῶν;)—This is one of the New Testament's most puzzling verses. The phrase baptizomenoi hyper tōn nekron (βαπτιζόμενοι ὑπὲρ τῶν νεκρῶν, "being baptized on behalf of the dead") has spawned dozens of interpretations. Paul likely references a Corinthian practice ("they," not "we") of vicarious baptism for deceased believers who died before baptism. Paul doesn't endorse it but uses it ad hominem—even this questionable practice presumes resurrection belief.

If the dead rise not at all? Why are they then baptized for the dead? (εἰ ὅλως νεκροὶ οὐκ ἐγείρονται, τί καὶ βαπτίζονται ὑπὲρ αὐτῶν;)—Paul's argument: why undergo any ritual for the dead if death is final? The practice only makes sense if resurrection occurs. This is pragmatic argument, not doctrinal endorsement of proxy baptism (a practice unknown elsewhere in Scripture).

Historical Context

Church fathers offered various interpretations. The Mormon practice of baptism for the dead claims this verse as support, but Paul's grammar ("they," not "we") distances himself. Most likely, some Corinthian Christians practiced vicarious baptism—perhaps influenced by pagan Greek customs—and Paul uses it as reductio: even this shows you believe in resurrection, so why deny it?

Study Questions

1. Why does Paul mention a practice without explicitly endorsing or condemning it?
2. How does this verse demonstrate Paul's rhetorical skill in using opponents' own practices against their position?
3. What does this teach about distinguishing between apostolic teaching and cultural practices Paul references?
