

1 Samuel 14:16

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And the watchmen of Saul in Gibeah of Benjamin looked; and, behold, the multitude melted away, and they went on beating down one another.

Analysis

And the watchmen of Saul in Gibeah of Benjamin looked; and, behold, the multitude melted away, and they went on beating down one another.

Saul's watchmen observe the Philistine army 'melting away' (namog) - dissolving, dissipating like morning mist. The 'multitude' that had seemed overwhelming in chapter 13 now disperses and disintegrates. From Gibeah of Benjamin, Saul's forces watch divine deliverance unfold without their participation. The Hebrew halom ('beating down' or 'striking') suggests the Philistines were attacking each other in their panic. God turns enemy strength into self-destruction.

Historical Context

Confused armies attacking their own allies was documented in ancient Near Eastern warfare. Gideon's victory over Midian (Judges 7:22) and Jehoshaphat's over Moab and Ammon (2 Chronicles 20:22-23) show similar patterns. Darkness, unfamiliar terrain, and supernatural panic contributed to such friendly fire incidents.
