

1 Samuel 14:35

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And Saul built an altar unto the LORD: the same was the first altar that he built unto the LORD.

Analysis

And Saul built an altar unto the LORD: the same was the first altar that he built unto the LORD.

The notation that Saul 'built an altar unto the LORD: the same was the first altar that he built unto the LORD' suggests religious sincerity coexisting with spiritual failure. Building an altar represents worship, thanksgiving, and covenant recognition. Yet this is Saul's 'first' altar - remarkably late in his reign for such a basic act. His religious impulse appears genuine but inconsistent. The altar addresses his relationship with God without examining the oath that caused his people to sin.

Historical Context

Altar-building marked significant spiritual moments for patriarchs and leaders throughout Israel's history. That Saul had not built an altar previously is striking given his religious responsibilities. This delayed action suggests reactive rather than proactive piety.

Study Questions

1. Can genuine religious acts coexist with fundamental spiritual blindness?
2. What does delayed religious devotion suggest about priorities?
