

1 Samuel 17:26

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And David spake to the men that stood by him, saying, What shall be done to the man that killeth this Philistine, and taketh away the reproach from Israel? for who is this uncircumcised Philistine, that he should defy the armies of the living God?

Analysis

And David spake to the men that stood by him, saying, What shall be done to the man that killeth this Philistine, and taketh away the reproach from Israel? for who is this uncircumcised Philistine, that he should defy the armies of the living God?

David's question cuts to the theological heart of the matter: Goliath is an 'uncircumcised Philistine' defying 'the armies of the living God.' The Hebrew cherpah (reproach) indicates disgrace or shame. David saw what trained soldiers missed - this was primarily an affront to God's honor, not merely a military problem. His indignation arose from zeal for God's glory rather than personal ambition or youthful rashness.

Historical Context

Circumcision marked covenant membership; its absence marked Goliath as outside God's people and promises. The term 'living God' (Elohim chayyim) contrasted Yahweh with the lifeless idols of Philistine temples (Dagon). David's perspective reflected the covenant worldview lacking in Israel's army.
