

1 Samuel 2:3

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Talk no more so exceeding proudly; let not arrogancy come out of your mouth: for the LORD is a God of knowledge, and by him actions are weighed.

Analysis

---

Hannah's warning against pride directly addresses those like Peninnah who trusted in human advantages. The phrase 'exceeding proudly' intensifies the prohibition. The theological basis is God's omniscience - He is 'a God of knowledge' (or 'God of knowledges,' plural of majesty). The statement 'by him actions are weighed' pictures divine scales measuring every deed. Human boasting reveals ignorance of the God who sees all, knows all, and will judge all. Pride before the omniscient God is not merely inappropriate but absurd.

Historical Context

The weighing of deeds imagery appears in Egyptian judgment scenes and was adopted in Israelite wisdom literature (Proverbs 16:2; 21:2; 24:12). The concept emphasizes divine evaluation that penetrates beyond external appearances to internal motivations.
