

1 Samuel 2:4

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

The bows of the mighty men are broken, and they that stumbled are girded with strength.

Analysis

Hannah now applies her theology to concrete reversals of fortune. The 'bows of the mighty' represent military power and self-sufficient strength. Their breaking demonstrates God's ability to disarm the powerful. Conversely, those who 'stumbled' (the weak and failing) receive strength like a warrior's belt. This reversal pattern permeates Scripture and finds ultimate expression in the cross, where apparent defeat becomes cosmic victory. God consistently works contrary to human expectations, exalting the humble and humbling the proud.

Historical Context

The bow was the premier long-range weapon of ancient warfare and a symbol of military might. Being 'girded with strength' refers to the warrior's belt that held weapons and enabled combat. These images would resonate with audiences familiar with military realities.
