

1 Samuel 23:9

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And David knew that Saul secretly practised mischief against him; and he said to Abiathar the priest, Bring hither the ephod.

Analysis

And David knew that Saul secretly practised mischief against him; and he said to Abiathar the priest, Bring hither the ephod.

David's intelligence network informed him of Saul's plans. The Hebrew 'macharish' (secretly devising) suggests covert planning that David nonetheless discovered. His immediate response—requesting the ephod—demonstrates reliance on divine guidance rather than human strategy alone. The command 'bring hither the ephod' initiates formal inquiry. David's pattern emerges clearly: receive information, seek God's direction, then act. This sequence—intelligence, prayer, action—models wise leadership that values both human awareness and divine wisdom. The ephod had become David's access point to God, replacing the prophetic guidance Samuel previously provided.

Historical Context

David maintained intelligence sources that kept him informed of Saul's movements. The formal request for the ephod indicates the seriousness of divine consultation—this was not casual prayer but structured inquiry through authorized priestly means.
