

1 Samuel 27:7

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And the time that David dwelt in the country of the Philistines was a full year and four months.

Analysis

---

The timeframe 'a full year and four months' (Hebrew: 'yamim arba'ah chodashim,' literally 'days and four months,' where 'days' idiomatically means a year) establishes the extent of David's exile. This period roughly corresponds to the final sixteen months of Saul's reign, during which David operated independently while nominally under Philistine authority. The specificity suggests an accurate historical tradition preserved in the narrative. These months shaped David's character and established relationships that would influence his reign.

Historical Context

---

The period from approximately 1012 to 1010 BCE represents a transitional phase when Saul's kingdom deteriorated while David built a power base. David's activities during this time laid groundwork for his rapid assumption of rule after Saul's death.

Related Passages

---

Psalms 19:1 — Heavens declare God's glory

Colossians 1:16 — All things created through Christ

Study Questions

---

1. What formative periods in your life have occurred during times of apparent exile or waiting?
2. How do you steward seasons of transition when the future remains unclear?

Interlinear Text

---

וַיְהִי מִסְפַּר יָמֵי אֲשֶׁר בָּשָׂד הַ
H1961 And the time H4557 was a full year H3117 H834 dwelt H3427 that David H1732 in the country H7704

פְּלִשְׁתִּים יָמֵי אַרְבַּע הַ חֳדָשִׁים:
H6430 of the Philistines H3117 was a full year H702 and four H2320 months

Additional Cross-References

---

1 Samuel 29:3 (References David): Then said the princes of the Philistines, What do these Hebrews here? And Achish said unto the princes of the Philistines, Is not this David, the servant of Saul the king of Israel, which hath been with me these days, or these years, and I have found no fault in him since he fell unto me unto this day?

---

From KJV Study • kjevstudy.org