

1 Samuel 3:9

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Therefore Eli said unto Samuel, Go, lie down: and it shall be, if he call thee, that thou shalt say, Speak, LORD; for thy servant heareth. So Samuel went and lay down in his place.

Analysis

Eli's instruction provides the proper response formula: 'Speak, LORD; for thy servant heareth.' This response positions Samuel correctly - as servant awaiting the Master's word. The structure reverses Samuel's earlier mistake of speaking before listening. Eli offers Samuel what he himself has apparently lost - knowledge of how to receive divine revelation. The instruction to 'lie down' indicates patient waiting; the response formula indicates humble receptivity. Eli's mentoring in this moment accomplishes something his years of compromised priesthood could not.

Historical Context

The response formula Eli provides became paradigmatic for prophetic receptivity. Similar language appears in prophetic call narratives throughout Scripture. Isaiah's 'Here am I; send me' (6:8) follows this pattern of available servanthood.
