

1 Samuel 4:10

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And the Philistines fought, and Israel was smitten, and they fled every man into his tent: and there was a very great slaughter; for there fell of Israel thirty thousand footmen.

Analysis

The battle's outcome devastates Israel: complete rout ('they fled every man into his tent'), catastrophic casualties ('thirty thousand footmen'), and the unthinkable - the Ark captured. The phrase 'Israel was smitten' uses the same language as verse 2, but now sevenfold worse. God has not merely permitted defeat but actively judged His people. The Ark's capture fulfills the prophecy: 'thou shalt see an enemy in my habitation' (2:32). What Israel trusted to save them becomes the means of their humiliation.

Historical Context

The loss of thirty thousand soldiers would represent a significant portion of Israel's fighting force. The subsequent capture of the Ark meant that Israel's central religious symbol was now in enemy hands - an unprecedented theological crisis.

Study Questions

1. What does the Ark's capture reveal about God's willingness to allow His own symbols to fall into enemy hands?
2. How does this outcome challenge assumptions about God's protection of religious institutions?
