

1 Timothy 5:10

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Well reported of for good works; if she have brought up children, if she have lodged strangers, if she have washed the saints' feet, if she have relieved the afflicted, if she have diligently followed every good work.

Analysis

Well reported of for good works (ἐν ἔργοις καλοῖς μαρτυρουμένη, en ergois kalois martyroumenē)—'having a reputation for good works.' Martyreō means to bear witness, testify—her good deeds are publicly known. Paul lists five examples:

If she have brought up children (εἰ ἐτεκνοτρόφησεν, ei eteknotrophēsen)—raised children well. If she have lodged strangers (εἰ ἐξενοδόχησεν, ei exenodochēsen)—practiced hospitality. If she have washed the saints' feet (εἰ ἀγίων πόδας ἔνιψεν, ei hagiōn podas enipsen)—performed humble service. If she have relieved the afflicted (εἰ θλιβομένοις ἐπήρκεσεν, ei thlibomenois epērkesen)—helped those in distress. If she have diligently followed every good work (εἰ παντὶ ἔργῳ ἀγαθῷ ἐπηκολούθησεν, ei panti ergō agathō epēkolouthēsen)—devoted herself to every good deed.

These qualifications describe a lifetime of faithful, humble service. The enrolled widow has proven character through decades of practical godliness—raising children, showing hospitality, serving humbly, helping the suffering, pursuing every opportunity for good. She deserves honor and support.

Historical Context

Foot washing was a menial task usually performed by servants. That a widow personally washed saints' feet demonstrates humility and sacrificial service. Hospitality to traveling teachers and believers was essential in the early church (3 John 5-8). The widow's lifetime of good works—often unseen and unappreciated—qualifies her for the church's sustained care in old age.

Study Questions

1. Why does Paul emphasize humble, practical service (like foot-washing) over spectacular deeds?
2. How does a lifetime of faithful good works demonstrate genuine faith?
3. What modern equivalents to 'foot-washing' demonstrate humble, Christ-like service?
