

2 Chronicles 34:2

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And he did that which was right in the sight of the LORD, and walked in the ways of David his father, and declined neither to the right hand, nor to the left.

Analysis

---

Young King Josiah's faithfulness is described: 'And he did that which was right in the sight of the LORD, and walked in the ways of David his father, and declined neither to the right hand, nor to the left.' Beginning his reign at age 8, Josiah's spiritual integrity came through divine grace, not family influence (his father Amon and grandfather Manasseh were wicked). The phrase 'declined neither to the right hand, nor to the left' echoes Deuteronomic covenant faithfulness (Deuteronomy 5:32). Following 'David his father' skips intervening generations to return to the covenant ideal. This demonstrates God's sovereign grace in raising up faithful leaders even from ungodly lineage, pointing to Christ, the Son of David who perfectly walks God's ways.

Historical Context

Josiah's reign (640-609 BCE) marked Judah's last great reform before Babylonian exile. His discovery of the Law scroll (34:14-33) sparked revival, showing that God's Word has power even when neglected for generations. His death fighting Egypt (35:20-24) ended the reform movement.
