

2 Chronicles 6:14

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And said, O LORD God of Israel, there is no God like thee in the heaven, nor in the earth; which keepest covenant, and shewest mercy unto thy servants, that walk before thee with all their hearts:

Analysis

Solomon's prayer begins: 'And said, O LORD God of Israel, there is no God like thee in the heaven, nor in the earth; which keepest covenant, and shewest mercy unto thy servants, that walk before thee with all their hearts.' The declaration of YHWH's uniqueness ('no God like thee') establishes monotheistic foundation. The two divine attributes emphasized are covenant-keeping (shomer habrit) and mercy-showing (chesed). These aren't abstract qualities but are demonstrated toward 'thy servants who walk before thee with all their hearts' - those in covenant relationship exhibiting wholehearted devotion. This teaches that God's faithfulness and mercy operate within covenant framework, ultimately fulfilled in Christ who secures the covenant through His blood.

Historical Context

Solomon's dedicatory prayer (c. 960 BCE) established theological framework for temple worship. His emphasis on covenant and mercy reflected Deuteronomic theology while appealing to God's character as basis for confidence in prayer.
