

2 Thessalonians 2:11

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie:

Analysis

And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie—for this cause (refusing truth-love) God shall send (pempei autois, πέμπει αὐτοῖς, actively sends) strong delusion (energeian planēs, ἐνέργειαν πλάνης, 'working of error/deception'). This is judicial hardening—God gives truth-rejecters over to their chosen lies.

That they should believe a lie (to pseudei, τῷ ψεύδει, 'the lie')—possibly the specific lie that Antichrist is God, or falsehood generally. God doesn't tempt (James 1:13), but He judicially abandons rebels to their delusions (Rom. 1:24, 26, 28). Repeated truth-rejection results in God-given inability to perceive truth. This is terrifying: the worst judgment is getting what you want.

Historical Context

Pharaoh's hardening (Ex. 4-14) provides the Old Testament pattern: God hardens those who first harden themselves. Paul applies this principle eschatologically. Those who reject Christ during gospel proclamation will be divinely confirmed in deception during Antichrist's reign.

Study Questions

1. How does God sending delusion differ from God being the author of evil?
2. What lies are you tempted to believe because they're more comfortable than truth?
3. How should this warning motivate embracing difficult truths now, before judgment hardens you?
