

2 Thessalonians 3:6

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Now we command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh disorderly, and not after the tradition which he received of us.

Analysis

Now we command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh disorderly, and not after the tradition which he received of us—we command (parangellomen, παραγγέλλομεν, military order) in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ (Christ's authority, not Paul's). The command: withdraw yourselves from (stellesthai hymas apo, στέλλεσθαι ὑμᾶς ἀπό, avoid, shun) every brother that walketh disorderly (ataktōs, ἀτάκτως, 'out of rank,' like undisciplined soldiers).

And not after the tradition (paradosin, παράδοσιν, apostolic teaching)—they've rejected instruction. Church discipline requires separating from professing believers who persist in sin. This isn't excommunication (v. 15 calls them 'brother') but social distancing to induce shame and repentance. Love sometimes requires withdrawal.

Historical Context

Some Thessalonians, believing Christ's return was imminent, quit working and became burdens on the church (cf. 1 Thess. 4:11-12, 5:14). This was disorderly—violating apostolic instruction to work. Paul mandates discipline to protect the church's testimony and resources.

Study Questions

1. What 'disorderly' behavior in fellow Christians requires your loving confrontation?
2. How do you balance grace toward struggling believers with necessary church discipline?
3. Why is withdrawal from fellowship sometimes more loving than continued association?
