

Acts 10:42

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And he commanded us to preach unto the people, and to testify that it is he which was ordained of God to be the Judge of quick and dead.

Analysis

Peter declared Christ 'commanded us to preach unto the people, and to testify that it is he which was ordained of God to be the Judge of quick and dead.' The risen Christ commissioned apostolic preaching and testimony. The message centers on Christ as the divinely appointed Judge of all - both living ('quick') and dead. This establishes Christ's authority to judge and the necessity of responding to Him now. Reformed eschatology affirms Christ as the final Judge (2 Timothy 4:1), before whom all will stand. His judgment is comprehensive, righteous, and final.

Historical Context

Jesus' commission to the apostles (Matthew 28:18-20, Acts 1:8) authorized their preaching. The emphasis on Christ as Judge warned Cornelius's household that neutrality toward Christ is impossible - all will face Him as Judge, making present faith urgent.

Study Questions

---

1. What does Christ's role as Judge teach about the urgency of the gospel?
2. How should Christ's future judgment affect our present witness and living?
3. Why is it important that the same Jesus who offers salvation will also execute judgment?
