

Acts 11:20

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And some of them were men of Cyprus and Cyrene, which, when they were come to Antioch, spake unto the Grecians, preaching the Lord Jesus.

Analysis

Some believers from Cyprus and Cyrene 'spake unto the Grecians, preaching the Lord Jesus' in Antioch. These unnamed believers pioneered Gentile evangelism, likely emboldened by Peter's Caesarean mission. Their message centered on 'the Lord Jesus' - emphasizing both Jesus' identity as Lord and Savior. Reformed theology celebrates how ordinary believers (not apostles) initiated the Gentile mission in Antioch. God uses whom He wills to accomplish His purposes, not merely prominent leaders but also unnamed faithful witnesses.

Historical Context

Antioch was the Roman Empire's third-largest city with a diverse, cosmopolitan population. That Cypriot and Cyrenian believers preached to Gentiles there circa AD 40-42 established Antioch as the first predominantly Gentile church, later becoming Paul's missionary base.

Study Questions

1. How does God use ordinary, unnamed believers to accomplish extraordinary purposes?
2. What enabled these believers to cross cultural barriers to preach to Gentiles?
3. Why is proclaiming Jesus as both Lord and Savior essential to gospel preaching?
