

Acts 15:33

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And after they had tarried there a space, they were let go in peace from the brethren unto the apostles.

Analysis

After tarrying 'a space,' Judas and Silas were 'let go in peace from the brethren unto the apostles.' The phrase 'in peace' (Greek 'eirēnē') indicates reconciliation and unity. What began as serious conflict ended in fellowship. The gospel rightly understood produces peace among God's people.

Historical Context

Their peaceful departure confirmed that Antioch's church accepted the council's decision. The unity achieved here enabled Christianity's continued expansion without splitting into Jewish and Gentile factions.
