

Acts 15:34

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Notwithstanding it pleased Silas to abide there still.

Analysis

This verse (appearing in some manuscripts) notes that Silas chose to remain in Antioch. His decision to stay would prove providential - when Paul needed a new companion after separating from Barnabas, Silas was available. God's sovereignty works through human choices to accomplish His purposes.

Historical Context

Silas's presence in Antioch positioned him to join Paul's second missionary journey (Acts 15:40). This seemingly minor detail shows how God orchestrates circumstances for gospel advance.
