

Acts 15:9

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And put no difference between us and them, purifying their hearts by faith.

Analysis

---

Peter's testimony that God 'put no difference between us and them, purifying their hearts by faith' articulated salvation's essential principle. The cleansing comes through faith alone, not through law-keeping or ritual observance. This 'no difference' between Jew and Gentile became foundational to Paul's theology (Romans 3:22-23) and remains Christianity's core claim.

Historical Context

Peter's reference to God's gift to Gentiles recalled Cornelius's household (Acts 10). His testimony that God directly gave the Spirit to uncircumcised Gentiles proved divine acceptance apart from law-keeping.

Study Questions

1. How does 'purifying hearts by faith' challenge religious systems that add requirements to simple trust in Christ?

2. What does the 'no difference' principle mean for how you view yourself and other believers?
