

Acts 16:24

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Who, having received such a charge, thrust them into the inner prison, and made their feet fast in the stocks.

Analysis

'Who, having received such a charge, thrust them into the inner prison, and made their feet fast in the stocks.' The 'inner prison' was the most secure, dark, and uncomfortable section. Stocks (Greek 'xylon' - wood) held feet in painful positions, preventing movement or rest. Maximum discomfort accompanied maximum security. Yet this darkest hour preceded the jailor's conversion.

Historical Context

Roman inner prisons were underground cells, dark and often used for condemned criminals awaiting execution. The jailor's thoroughness in confining Paul and Silas shows he took his responsibility seriously.
