

Acts 2:1

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And when the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place.

Analysis

When the day of Pentecost was fully come (ἐν τῷ συμπληροῦσθαι)—The timing was sovereignly appointed, not accidental. Pentecost (Greek for 'fiftieth') occurred fifty days after Passover, fulfilling Jesus' promise of 'not many days hence' (1:5). They were all with one accord (ὁμοθυμαδόν) emphasizes unity—this Greek word appears eleven times in Acts, always denoting corporate harmony enabling God's work. The 120 believers gathered in prayerful expectation, demonstrating that Pentecost was both divine initiative and human preparation. This moment inaugurates the church age and New Covenant promised by Joel.

Historical Context

Pentecost was the Feast of Weeks, celebrating wheat harvest and (in Jewish tradition) commemorating the giving of the Law at Sinai. Jerusalem would have been crowded with pilgrims from throughout the Mediterranean world—God's timing made maximum gospel spread possible. Occurred around 30 AD, ten days after Christ's ascension.

Study Questions

1. What role does corporate unity ('one accord') play in experiencing God's power today?
2. How does Pentecost's timing during a Jewish feast reveal God's redemptive continuity?
