

Acts 2:12

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And they were all amazed, and were in doubt, saying one to another, What meaneth this?

Analysis

The dual response - amazement (Greek 'existanto') and doubt (v. 13's mockery) - typifies humanity's reaction to divine revelation. The honest inquiry 'What meaneth this?' represents genuine spiritual seeking, while others' ridicule demonstrates hardened hearts. This division fulfills Christ's prophecy that He came not to bring peace but a sword, separating those whom the Father draws from those who resist grace.

Historical Context

The phrase 'doubting' (Greek 'diaporeo') means 'thoroughly perplexed' rather than skeptical disbelief. These observers lacked categories to explain supernatural phenomena contradicting natural order. Their question invited apostolic explanation, which Peter provided in his sermon (Acts 2:14-40).
