

Acts 2:45

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And sold their possessions and goods, and parted them to all men, as every man had need.

Analysis

Believers 'sold their possessions and goods, and parted them to all men, as every man had need' demonstrates love's practical expression. The Greek 'epidiedoun' (distributed) indicates ongoing action, not one-time event. This generosity wasn't forced leveling but need-based assistance. The phrase 'as every man had need' refutes both hoarding and indiscriminate giving - wisdom guided compassion. This models biblical stewardship: recognizing God owns all, we're trustees serving others.

Historical Context

Jerusalem's poverty (evidenced by Paul's later collection, Romans 15:26) was partly self-inflicted through persecution and partly due to economic marginalization. Diaspora Jews often maintained properties in distant lands while living in Jerusalem, explaining their ability to sell possessions.
