

Acts 23:14

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And they came to the chief priests and elders, and said, We have bound ourselves under a great curse, that we will eat nothing until we have slain Paul.

Analysis

The conspirators sought the chief priests' and elders' cooperation, revealing corruption at the highest levels of Jewish leadership. These religious authorities were willing to enable murder through deception, showing how institutional religion can become utterly corrupt when it rejects divine truth. Their participation in assassination plans while maintaining religious appearance epitomizes hypocrisy.

Historical Context

The same Sanhedrin leadership that condemned Jesus now conspired to murder His apostle. This continuity of opposition demonstrates the hardening that comes from persistently rejecting revealed truth.
