

Acts 4:10

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead, even by him doth this man stand here before you whole.

Analysis

---

Peter's declaration 'Be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Israel' expands address beyond the council to the nation, making his statement public record. The core proclamation - 'by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead' - contrasts human action (crucifixion) with divine response (resurrection). The phrase 'even by him doth this man stand here before you whole' (Greek 'hygiēs,' completely healthy) connects physical healing to spiritual salvation.

Historical Context

The title 'Jesus Christ of Nazareth' emphasizes His human origin and messianic identity. Nazareth's insignificance made claiming its resident as Messiah scandalous (John 1:46). Peter's public accusation 'ye crucified' directly charged the council with deicide, while 'God raised' vindicated Jesus and condemned His executioners.

Study Questions

1. How does connecting physical healing with Jesus' name point to comprehensive salvation?
2. What boldness does it require to accuse powerful authorities of crucifying God's Messiah?
