

Acts 6:3

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Wherefore, brethren, look ye out among you seven men of honest report, full of the Holy Ghost and wisdom, whom we may appoint over this business.

Analysis

The qualifications for deacons—good reputation, Spirit-fullness, and wisdom—establish that even practical ministry requires spiritual character. The apostles' directive to 'look ye out' engages the congregation in leadership selection, modeling shared governance. These standards ensure that administrative service maintains spiritual integrity.

Historical Context

The selection of the Seven resolved Greek-speaking Jewish Christians' complaint about food distribution neglect. This first recorded church office (proto-deacons) allowed apostles to maintain prayer and word ministry while ensuring equitable care.

Study Questions

1. Why does practical ministry require the same spiritual qualifications as teaching ministry?
2. How should churches today involve congregations in leadership selection?
