

Acts 7:30

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And when forty years were expired, there appeared to him in the wilderness of mount Sina an angel of the Lord in a flame of fire in a bush.

Analysis

After forty years, God's timing arrived. The 'angel of the LORD' appeared in the burning bush - understood in Reformed theology as a pre-incarnate appearance of Christ (Christophany). God's sovereign election is seen in choosing this specific time, place, and means to call Moses. The wilderness of Mount Sinai would become the location of covenant-giving, linking Moses' call to his future ministry. Divine initiative, not human readiness, determines the moment of calling.

Historical Context

Mount Sinai (also called Horeb) is traditionally identified with Jebel Musa in the southern Sinai Peninsula. This theophany occurred circa 1446 BC, marking the beginning of Moses' eighty-year ministry as deliverer and lawgiver.

Study Questions

1. Why did God wait exactly forty years before revealing Himself to Moses?

2. What is the significance of the Angel of the LORD appearing rather than God directly?
3. How does God's perfect timing in calling Moses encourage us in seasons of waiting?
