

Acts 9:12

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And hath seen in a vision a man named Ananias coming in, and putting his hand on him, that he might receive his sight.

Analysis

Saul had seen in a vision 'a man named Ananias' coming to restore his sight. God prepared both men through visions for their meeting - Ananias needed courage to approach the notorious persecutor, Saul needed assurance that Ananias' coming was God's doing. This dual preparation shows God's providence in bringing together unlikely partners for His purposes. The promise of restored sight pointed to both physical and spiritual sight. Reformed theology sees God's meticulous care in salvation - orchestrating every detail to accomplish His electing purposes.

Historical Context

Visions and direct divine communication were common in the apostolic era as God established the church and revealed new covenant truth. Both Saul and Ananias received supernatural guidance for this crucial meeting that would launch Paul's apostleship.
