

Colossians 1:7

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

As ye also learned of Epaphras our dear fellowservant, who is for you a faithful minister of Christ;

Analysis

As ye also learned of Epaphras our dear fellowservant, who is for you a faithful minister of Christ. Epaphras appears as syndoulos (σύνδουλος, "fellow-slave"), emphasizing shared servanthood with Paul under one Master. The adjective agapētos (ἀγαπητός, "beloved") shows Paul's personal affection, while pistos diakonos (πιστὸς διάκονος, "faithful servant") commends his ministry.

Epaphras likely evangelized Colossae during Paul's Ephesian ministry when "all they which dwelt in Asia heard the word" (Acts 19:10). Paul validates Epaphras's teaching as authentic gospel, establishing continuity between apostolic authority and local ministry. The phrase "for you" (hyper hymōn, ὑπὲρ ὑμῶν) indicates Epaphras served their interests, not building personal empire—a model for biblical ministry.

Historical Context

Epaphras traveled from Colossae to Rome to consult Paul about the emerging heresy, showing pastoral wisdom in seeking apostolic guidance. His report prompted this epistle. Later tradition identifies him as Colossae's first bishop, though Scripture doesn't explicitly state this. His willingness to travel hundreds of miles for theological clarity demonstrates how seriously early Christians took doctrinal purity.

Study Questions

1. Who has faithfully brought you the gospel, and how do you honor their ministry in your continued faithfulness?
2. What makes a minister "faithful"—theological precision, personal character, sacrificial service, or all three?
3. When facing doctrinal confusion, do you seek wise counsel from mature believers, or rely on personal opinion?
