

Deuteronomy 12:29

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

When the LORD thy God shall cut off the nations from before thee, whither thou goest to possess them, and thou succeedest them, and dwellest in their land;

Analysis

Warning against Canaanite practices: 'When the LORD thy God shall cut off the nations from before thee, whither thou goest to possess them, and thou succeedest them, and dwellest in their land.' This acknowledges God as agent of conquest—He 'cuts off' (יָכַרִית, yakhrit, destroys) the nations. Israel will 'succeed' (יָרַשׁ, yarash, inherit/dispossess) them, taking possession. The sequence—God destroys → Israel possesses → Israel settles—establishes divine initiative followed by human participation. This sets up the critical warning in verse 30: victory over enemies doesn't guarantee immunity from their spiritual influence. Physical conquest must be matched by spiritual vigilance.

Historical Context

Joshua 1-12 narrates partial fulfillment—many Canaanites destroyed, but Judges 1 reveals incomplete conquest. Israelites failed to fully drive out inhabitants, leading to generations of syncretism. The very cultures they conquered spiritually conquered them through idolatry. Prophets repeatedly condemned Canaanite religious practices Israel adopted: Baal worship, Asherah poles, child sacrifice. Physical victory without spiritual purity led to apostasy.
