

Deuteronomy 20:1

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

When thou goest out to battle against thine enemies, and seest horses, and chariots, and a people more than thou, be not afraid of them: for the LORD thy God is with thee, which brought thee up out of the land of Egypt.

Analysis

When thou goest out to battle against thine enemies, and seest horses, and chariots, and a people more than thou, be not afraid of them: for the LORD thy God is with thee, which brought thee up out of the land of Egypt.

Military inferiority ('horses, and chariots, and a people more than thou') should not create fear because 'the LORD thy God is with thee.' Divine presence matters more than military advantage. The reminder of exodus ('brought thee up out of Egypt') grounds confidence in past deliverance. God who conquered Egypt's superpower can defeat any enemy. The Hebrew yare (יָרֵא, fear/afraid) is forbidden because covenant relationship guarantees divine aid. This transforms warfare from human contest to divine action. Success depends not on military strength but covenant faithfulness and divine promise.

Historical Context

Israel lacked horses and chariots (expensive, requiring grasslands). Canaanites possessed both (Joshua 11:4; Judges 1:19; 4:3). Egypt's chariot corps was legendary. Yet God commanded not fearing superior forces. Gideon's 300 defeating Midianites (Judges 7), Jonathan's two-man assault succeeding (1 Samuel 14), and David's sling defeating Goliath exemplify this principle—God's presence trumps human strength. Later kings accumulated horses/chariots despite prohibition (Deuteronomy 17:16), trusting armaments over God. Prophets condemned this (Isaiah 31:1: 'Woe to them that go down to Egypt for help; and stay on horses, and trust in chariots').

Study Questions

1. How does past deliverance (your 'exodus') provide confidence for present challenges?
2. What modern 'horses and chariots' (technology, wealth, human resources) tempt us to trust instead of God?
3. How do we balance responsible preparation (acquiring resources) with ultimate trust in divine provision?
