

Deuteronomy 20:18

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

That they teach you not to do after all their abominations, which they have done unto their gods; so should ye sin against the LORD your God.

Analysis

That they teach you not to do after all their abominations, which they have done unto their gods; so should ye sin against the LORD your God—The reason for herem: preventing idolatrous abominations (תועבות, to'evot, 'detestable practices') from infecting Israel. Canaanite worship included child sacrifice (they burnt their sons and their daughters in the fire to their gods, Deuteronomy 12:31), cultic prostitution, and divination. Exposure meant adoption: they teach you (למדתם, lemadtem, instructing, training).

The warning proved prophetic. Israel learned Canaanite practices: They sacrificed their sons and their daughters unto devils, and shed innocent blood (Psalm 106:37-38). God's preventative judgment (destroy them first) became necessary corrective judgment (exile, 586 BC). The principle stands: Evil company corrupts good habits (1 Corinthians 15:33, NKJV). Tolerating sin's presence guarantees sin's dominance. Paul commands: Abstain from all appearance of evil (1 Thessalonians 5:22).

Historical Context

Archaeological discoveries at Canaanite sites (Gezer, Megiddo, Hazor) revealed infant remains in foundation walls (sacrifice), cultic prostitution facilities, and brutality confirming biblical descriptions. These weren't innocent cultures but systems of organized evil requiring divine judgment.

Study Questions

1. What 'abominations' (cultural practices, entertainment, philosophies) are you tolerating that could 'teach' (gradually train) you away from God?
2. How did Israel's failure to execute herem result in adopting the very practices God sought to prevent?
3. What 'appearances of evil' must you avoid—not because they're inherently sinful but because exposure leads to adoption?
