

Deuteronomy 7:5

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

But thus shall ye deal with them; ye shall destroy their altars, and break down their images, and cut down their groves, and burn their graven images with fire.

Analysis

The command to destroy altars, images, groves (Asherah poles), and graven images reflects total war against idolatry. This wasn't cultural vandalism but spiritual surgery—removing cancer before it metastasizes. Each element represented different aspects of Canaanite worship: altars (sacrificial systems), images (matstsebah, stone pillars), groves (asherah, wooden cult objects), and graven images (pesel, carved idols). The comprehensive list shows that partial obedience equals disobedience—God requires complete rejection of false worship. The New Testament parallel is putting to death 'the deeds of the body' (Romans 8:13) and making no provision for the flesh (Romans 13:14). Spiritual victory requires radical amputation of sin (Matthew 5:29-30).

Historical Context

Archaeological excavations throughout Canaan have uncovered numerous altars, standing stones, Asherah poles, and idol figurines, confirming the pervasiveness of these cultic objects. The Canaanite religious system was not abstract philosophy but involved elaborate ritual infrastructure. Asherah worship involved fertility rites and sexual immorality. Baal worship included child sacrifice. These weren't benign cultural differences but practices that degraded human dignity and corrupted society. Israel's failure to fully execute this command (Judges 2:1-3) led to centuries of spiritual struggle.

Study Questions

1. What 'altars' or 'idols' in your life compete for the devotion that belongs to God alone?
2. How radical are you willing to be in removing temptations and occasions for sin?
3. In what ways does partial obedience to God's commands actually constitute disobedience?
