

Deuteronomy 8:4

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Thy raiment waxed not old upon thee, neither did thy foot swell, these forty years.

Analysis

---

The miraculous preservation of clothing and protection of feet demonstrates God's comprehensive care extending to ordinary physical needs. The Hebrew balah (waxed old/wore out) normally describes inevitable decay, but God suspended natural deterioration. Forty years without new clothing or swollen feet from constant travel is supernatural provision. This detail emphasizes that God's care encompasses both spectacular (manna from heaven) and mundane (preserved sandals) needs. The principle is Matthew 6:25-33—the same God who feeds birds and clothes flowers will provide for His children. This ordinary miracle teaches that all provision, whether spectacular or subtle, flows from God's hand.

Historical Context

The forty-year wilderness period (1446-1406 BC traditional dating) required constant travel over harsh terrain. Normal wear would have destroyed clothing and caused severe foot problems (blisters, calluses, swelling) from continuous walking over rocks and sand. The lack of resources to replace clothing or make new sandals would have created genuine hardship. God's preservation of these basics demonstrated His faithfulness in small, daily matters, not just dramatic crises. This prepared Israel to trust God's provision in Canaan's settled life.
