

Exodus 12:18

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

In the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month at even, ye shall eat unleavened bread, until the one and twentieth day of the month at even.

Analysis

The specification 'fourteenth day...at even' until 'one and twentieth day...at even' defines precisely seven complete days. The phrase 'in the first month' (Abib/Nisan) permanently anchors this observance to the redemption anniversary. The meticulous timing reveals God's concern for exact obedience in worship, not casual approximation.

Historical Context

Reckoning days from evening to evening follows Hebrew timekeeping where days begin at sunset. This specific dating prevented confusion and ensured uniform observance throughout Israel.
