

Exodus 12:24

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And ye shall observe this thing for an ordinance to thee and to thy sons for ever.

Analysis

The command 'observe this thing for an ordinance' (chok, חֻקָּה—statute) establishes binding permanence for 'thee and thy sons for ever.' The phrase 'for ever' (ad-olam, אֶת-עַד) indicates perpetual observance across generations. This multi-generational focus ensures the redemption story is never forgotten, with each generation required to personally appropriate and transmit the truth.

Historical Context

This ordinance predates Sinai's law-giving by several months, making it foundational to Israel's identity. It would be observed by Jesus Himself (Luke 22:7-8).
