

Exodus 16:35

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And the children of Israel did eat manna forty years, until they came to a land inhabited; they did eat manna, until they came unto the borders of the land of Canaan.

Analysis

And the children of Israel did eat manna forty years, until they came to a land inhabited—The 40 years (corresponding to 40 years' wilderness wandering for unbelief) demonstrates both judgment and mercy: they're delayed but fed. The phrase 'until they came to a land inhabited' (עד-בָּאָם אֶל-אָרֶץ נֹשֶׁבֶת, ad-bo'am el-eretz noshevet) marks manna's cessation upon entering Canaan (Josh 5:12). This 40-year miracle—approximately 14,600 days of provision for 2+ million people—remains unparalleled in history. The daily dependence trained an entire generation in faith. Spiritually, believers feed on Christ throughout earthly pilgrimage 'until' we reach the promised land of glory, when faith becomes sight and manna becomes wedding feast.

Historical Context

Forty years equals an entire generation. Those who refused to enter Canaan at Kadesh-barnea died in the wilderness, but God faithfully fed even the rebellious generation until their children inherited the promise.

Study Questions

1. How does 40 years of daily manna demonstrate both God's judgment (delay) and mercy (provision)?
2. What does manna ceasing at Canaan teach about earthly provisions' relationship to promised rest?
