

Exodus 17:16

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

For he said, Because the LORD hath sworn that the LORD will have war with Amalek from generation to generation.

Analysis

For he said, Because the LORD hath sworn that the LORD will have war with Amalek from generation to generation—The phrase 'the LORD hath sworn' פִּיְדָע עַל־כָּסֶף הָה, literally 'for a hand upon the throne of Yah') indicates divine oath tied to God's throne. Amalek's attack on God's people constitutes attack on God's sovereignty. The declaration of perpetual war 'from generation to generation' מִדָּר דָּר (midor dor) means no peace treaty with flesh is possible—believers war against sin until death. Amalek's utter destruction in Deuteronomy 25:19 and Esther's Haman (Agagite, Amalekite descendant) show this conflict's persistence. Paul echoes this: 'For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit...these are contrary the one to the other' (Gal 5:17). Victory over flesh requires Christ's finished work, not negotiated truce.

Historical Context

God's sworn enmity against Amalek extended through Israel's history. Saul's failure to destroy them completely (1 Samuel 15) had consequences that reached to Haman's attempted genocide in Esther.

Study Questions

1. Why is God's war against Amalek 'from generation to generation' rather than one decisive battle?
2. How does perpetual war against Amalek picture the believer's lifelong mortification of sin?
