

Exodus 17:2

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Wherefore the people did chide with Moses, and said, Give us water that we may drink. And Moses said unto them, Why chide ye with me? wherefore do ye tempt the LORD?

Analysis

Wherefore the people did chide with Moses, and said, Give us water that we may drink—The verb 'chide' (רִיב, riv) means 'to contend, quarrel legally'—Israel puts Moses on trial for their thirst. Their demand 'Give us water' treats Moses as responsible rather than crying to God. Moses' response 'Why chide ye with me?' recognizes their real accusation: 'wherefore do ye tempt the LORD?' The verb 'tempt' (טֹהַ, nasah) means 'to test, put to trial'—Israel presumes to test God rather than trust Him. This reverses proper relationship: creatures don't test Creator. Their thirst is legitimate, but their response is faithless, echoing Psalm 78:18—'they tempted God in their heart by asking meat for their lust.'

Historical Context

This is the third major complaint (food in Ex 15:24, manna in Ex 16:2, now water), establishing a pattern of murmuring that characterizes Israel's wilderness journey.

Study Questions

1. How does legitimate need become sinful 'tempting God' through manner of asking?
2. What does putting human leaders 'on trial' for circumstances reveal about refusing God's sovereignty?
