

Exodus 18:3

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And her two sons; of which the name of the one was Gershom; for he said, I have been an alien in a strange land:

Analysis

And her two sons; of which the name of the one was Gershom; for he said, I have been an alien in a strange land—Gershom's name (גֶּרְשֹׁם, 'stranger there') memorializes Moses' exile identity in Midian. The naming statement 'I have been an alien' (אֲנִי גֵר, ger hayiti) shows Moses felt displaced in Midian despite marriage and family. This alien identity prepares Moses to lead Israel, themselves aliens in Egypt and now pilgrims in wilderness. The name teaches that God's servants often live as exiles, a theme Christ affirms: 'In the world ye shall have tribulation' (John 16:33). Peter calls believers παρεπίδημοι (parepidēmoi, 'sojourners,' 1 Pet 2:11), echoing Moses' named exile.

Historical Context

Gershom was born during Moses' 40 years in Midian (Exodus 2:22). His name reflects Moses' sense of displacement before God called him to lead Israel from Egyptian exile.

1. How does Moses naming his son 'stranger' prepare him to lead a people of exiles?
2. What does feeling 'alien' even in place of refuge teach about the believer's pilgrim identity?
