

Exodus 19:10

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And the LORD said unto Moses, Go unto the people, and sanctify them to day and to morrow, and let them wash their clothes,

Analysis

And the LORD said unto Moses, Go unto the people, and sanctify them to day and to morrow, and let them wash their clothes,

Meeting God requires preparation—holiness isn't casual. 'Sanctify' (קִדְּשָׁתָם, qiddashtam) means to set apart, consecrate, make holy. The two-day preparation period creates anticipation and underscores the gravity of divine encounter. Washing clothes (קִבְּסוּ שִׁמְלוֹתָם, kibbesu simlotam) symbolizes moral purity—external cleanliness representing internal consecration. The ritual speaks: you cannot approach God in your ordinary, defiled state. The New Testament echoes this: 'without holiness no one will see the Lord' (Hebrews 12:14). While Christ's blood sanctifies us positionally, progressive sanctification remains essential for deeper communion with God.

Historical Context

Ritual washings were common in ancient Near Eastern religions, but Israel's washings pointed beyond ceremony to moral transformation. Archaeological evidence shows ancient Israelites used mikvehs (ritual baths) for ceremonial cleansing.
