

Exodus 2:13

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And when he went out the second day, behold, two men of the Hebrews strove together: and he said to him that did the wrong, Wherefore smitest thou thy fellow?

Analysis

And when he went out the second day, behold, two men of the Hebrews strove together: and he said to him that did the wrong, Wherefore smitest thou thy fellow? (וַיֵּצֵא בַּיּוֹם הַשֵּׁנִי וַיִּהְיֶה שְׁנֵי־אֲנָשִׁים עִבְרִים נֹצִים, vayetse bayom hasheni vehineh shenei-anashim Ivrim nitsim)—The second day marks continued involvement despite yesterday's violence. Two men of the Hebrews strove together (נֹצִים, nitsim, "quarreling/fighting")—now the conflict is internal, Hebrew against Hebrew. Moses attempts to mediate: Wherefore smitest thou thy fellow? (לָמָּה תִּכֶּה רֵעֲךָ, lamah takkeh re'ekha). The irony: Moses who killed yesterday now preaches peace. The aggressor's response (v. 14) reveals Moses' secret is known, showing the impossibility of hiding sin and Moses' rejection by his own people.

Historical Context

Internal conflict among the oppressed is common under tyranny—suffering doesn't automatically produce solidarity. That Hebrews knew of Moses' killing indicates either witnesses or rapid spread of information. Moses' failed attempt to mediate previews his future successful mediation between God and Israel (32:11-14, 30-32).

Study Questions

1. How does the Hebrews' internal strife illustrate that oppression doesn't automatically create unity or righteousness?
2. What does Moses' rejected mediation teach about preparation needed before God can use someone as deliverer?
