

Exodus 23:29

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

I will not drive them out from before thee in one year; lest the land become desolate, and the beast of the field multiply against thee.

Analysis

I will not drive them out from before thee in one year; lest the land become desolate, and the beast of the field multiply against thee.

This command shapes Israel's covenant community life, applying moral law to social relationships. God's justice concerns everyday matters—truthfulness, fairness, compassion. The accumulation of ordinances creates comprehensive ethic governing Israelite society. These aren't arbitrary rules but revelations of God's character. He is just, merciful, truthful; His people must reflect these attributes. New Testament ethics build on this foundation, radicalizing commands while maintaining their spirit.

Historical Context

The Book of the Covenant concludes with liturgical calendar and worship regulations, integrating Israel's civil, moral, and ceremonial life under God's comprehensive rule.
