

Exodus 24:6

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And Moses took half of the blood, and put it in basons; and half of the blood he sprinkled on the altar.

Analysis

And Moses took half of the blood, and put it in basons; and half of the blood he sprinkled on the altar.

Blood divides into halves—one for altar (God's side), one for people (v. 8). This symbolizes covenant binds both parties. 'Sprinkled on altar' (וַיַּזְרֹק עַל-הַמִּזְבֵּחַ vayizroq al-hamizbeach) means blood touches God's throne. Blood is life (Leviticus 17:11); sprinkling blood dedicates life to God. The altar represents God; the people represent Israel—blood unites both. Hebrews 9:18-22 interprets this: 'even the first covenant was inaugurated with blood.' Christ's blood mediates a better covenant (Hebrews 8:6, 9:15, 12:24)—sprinkled once for all, cleansing conscience not just flesh.

Historical Context

Ancient Near Eastern treaty ratifications sometimes involved blood rituals symbolizing the oath's binding nature ('may this happen to me if I break covenant'). Israel's blood ritual uniquely unites God and people in covenant bond.
