

Exodus 26:25

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And they shall be eight boards, and their sockets of silver, sixteen sockets; two sockets under one board, and two sockets under another board.

Analysis

Eight boards total for the west end with sixteen silver sockets (two per board). Eight often represents new beginning/resurrection; the west wall (enclosing the Most Holy Place where God's glory dwells) stands on new-beginning foundation. Access to God's presence requires resurrection—we who were dead are made alive (Ephesians 2:5). The sixteen sockets (8×2) emphasize the complete redemptive foundation for this resurrection reality.

Historical Context

The eight boards (six standard plus two corners) at 1.5 cubits each created a 10-12 cubit width, matching the tabernacle's dimensions. The sixteen silver sockets continued the pattern of abundant redemptive foundation under every part of the structure.
