

Exodus 26:4

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And thou shalt make loops of blue upon the edge of the one curtain from the selvedge in the coupling; and likewise shalt thou make in the uttermost edge of another curtain, in the coupling of the second.

Analysis

Fifty loops of blue on one curtain's edge—blue representing the heavenly. These loops enabled the two sets to join, creating one complete covering. The loops teach that what appears separate finds unity through heavenly means. Blue (sky/heaven) reminds us that true unity comes from above, not human effort. In Christ, divisions are overcome—'neither Jew nor Greek' (Galatians 3:28)—through heavenly reality, not earthly compromise.

Historical Context

The loops (לולאה, lula'ah) were carefully sewn along the curtain edges, evenly spaced to align with corresponding loops on the other set. This precise placement ensured the two sections would join seamlessly.
