

Exodus 27:18

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

The length of the court shall be an hundred cubits, and the breadth fifty every where, and the height five cubits of fine twined linen, and their sockets of brass.

Analysis

Summary: the courtyard's complete dimensions— $100 \times 50$  cubits, 5 cubits high (approximately  $150' \times 75' \times 7.5'$ ). These specific measurements create defined sacred space, neither too vast (overwhelming) nor too small (restrictive). The 5-cubit height (about 7.5 feet) allowed visibility of activity inside while maintaining separation—a reminder that God's workings are neither completely hidden nor fully exposed. We see 'through a glass darkly' but we do see (1 Corinthians 13:12).

Historical Context

The 5-cubit height was tall enough to prevent animals from jumping over and to create clear boundaries, yet low enough that activities at the altar and laver remained visible to the congregation gathered outside. This balance between transparency and separation characterized the old covenant.

Study Questions

1. How does God balance revelation (we can see) with mystery (we can't fully see)?
2. What does the courtyard's defined dimensions teach about God creating appropriate sacred space?
